This certificate is based on the information provided to Steve Matthews and Associates by Abraham Kriel Bambanani. It is an independent opinion formed after a validation and analysis of the data and documents provided by them to determine a racial profile of the organisation's child and youth beneficiaries.

Abraham Kriel Bambanani has a legacy that goes back to 1902, of providing for child and youth development in the greater Johannesburg area. Services include physical care, rehabilitation and physical skills development for beneficiaries that have been subject to trauma, abuse, molestation, poverty, neglect and unemployment. Residential care, community services and educational programmes are all rendered. All approaches are connected to long term, comprehensive care which touches and strengthens both children and youth, giving them an opportunity to lead productive and fulfilling lives.

During the year ended March 2022, over 5 000 people have benefited from the care and support of the organisation. In regard to the beneficiaries of the organisation, at least 97% are from coloured and black communities.
